	SUBQUESTIONS		FINDINGS		CONCLUSIONS		RECOMMENDATIONS
How might Cassie and Friends Society effectively support families impacted by childhood rheumatic disease, who are living in Northern BC?	What are the needs of families living in Northern BC, impacted by childhood rheumatic disease?		Finding 1: Navigating childhood rheumatic disease can be traumatic and overwhelming, evoking feelings of isolation, uncertainty, and grief.	umatic disease can be traumatic and werwhelming, evoking feelings of isolation, uncertainty, and grief. Iding 2: Gaps in disease awareness tracross the Northern BC healthcare sector and general public. Ing 3: Connecting with other parents in children that have experience with although remaining disease is valuable. Finding 4: Families impacted by hood rheumatic disease in Northern fren experience significant hurdles to accessing timely care.	Conclusion 1: Mental health supports are needed for children and families affected by childhood rheumatic disease in Northern BC.		Recommendation 1: Elevate parent caregiver voices through inclusion in Continuing Medical Education session.
	How are needs currently being met, or partially met?		Finding 2: Gaps in disease awareness exist across the Northern BC healthcare sector and general public.		Conclusion 2: Northern BC families living with childhood rheumatic disease need accessible disease-specific information, resources, and supports.		Recommendation 2: Invest in facilitating connections with and among the Northern BC childhood rheumatic disease community.
	What needs are not currently being met?		Finding 3: Connecting with other parents and children that have experience with childhood rheumatic disease is valuable. Finding 4: Families impacted by childhood rheumatic disease in Northern RC often experience significant hurdles to		Conclusion 3: Families in Northern BC ⇒ spend significant time and resources travelling to receive equitable healthcare.		Recommendation 3: Develop a knowledge hub on the Cassie and Friends website specifically tailored to Northern BC community needs.
	What strategies could Cassie and Friends Society initiate to support children and families living in remote areas of Northern BC, in ways that are meaningful to the community?		accessing timely care. Finding 5: Advocacy is a necessity when navigating life with childhood rheumatic		Conclusion 4: Families impacted by childhood rheumatic disease would benefit from a navigator to help them identify and access available resources and services.		Recommendation 4: Consider recruitment of two parent navigators based in Northern BC to initiate welcome and connection into the community.